Payment for Environmental Services Initiative Bank

Payment for Environmental Services (PSA) is an important economic instrument, operationalized through a voluntary transaction, between two or more people, which aims to grant payments or other benefits to those who promote environmental recovery, preservation and protection, seeking remuneration them for the ecosystem services provided.

An important step to stimulate the financing and implementation of PES projects occurs by surveying existing initiatives and carrying out diagnoses. Therefore, Semad launched the PSA Initiatives Bank, with the aim of further strengthening this instrument and enhancing future investments in the environmental agenda.
